INTRODUCTION TO MARUSHAKTI

This unit was inaugurated on 25 January 2020, as a tool for all those farmers farmer families, small scale industries, by which they can increase their livelihood and find a safe source of income for themselves in the future Recognizing its importance and opportunities, not only the farmers but also the college students to set up their own production unit.

Technology regarding increasing the shelf life of millets was developed, by which, enzymes present in it become deactivated and can be stored upto six months. Value added millets products namely: cake, biscuits, laddu and sticks are also standardized and developed for sustainable livelihood and income generation.
